CHIPS.

THE Plain-Double-Dealer has virtually entered a plea of "guilty."

To Messrs. Wells, Allen and Cannon: Why not make your tour on wheels? You could have a "bi-cycle built for three."

THE three Republican judicial candidates for this district, are daily seen wandering around the streets, like a lost dog at a fair. They look amazed and chagrined; they feel too big to cry, and it hurts too bad to laugh.

LOST, STRAYED OR STOLEN.

A pair of Republican bosses, branded Arthur L. T—s, and Charles C—e. They have been missing since the Republican State Convention. They are not supposed to be together, as when last seen they were going in opposite directions. If found, return to G. O. P. headquarters, and receive the thanks of

Rep. Campaign Committee.

"A colored man, by the name of Finney, who was on his way from Stirling to his home, in the Strip, was arrested Thursday, by order of Deputy Sheriff Olmstead, on the complaint of C. L. Morgan, charging him with passing a silver half dollar, supposed to be counterfeit. The hearing was set for the 15th, and the defendant was committed to jail in default of bonds." Later. —"The coin was found to be good, and Finney was discharged."

Kansas Exchange.

If the above incident had took place south of the Mason and Dixon line, what a terrible example of "Southern outrage" would have been given. But this happened in "bleeding" Republican Kansas, in a Republican county, by a Republican official, on the complaint of a good Republican. It is true that Republican love for the colored man is climatic. The Northern man adores the negro, just so long as the latter remains in the South, hundreds of miles away; and the average Republican's sympathy for him is also far-reaching; it reaches away down to Georgia, but skips over Kansas.

THE real trouble with the country is not too much silver and not enough gold, but too much jingo-republicanism in the past. Two years and a half ago they left the U. S. treasury empty, and a big lot of unpaid bills. The Democrats have been paying off these old scores, and prosperity is again beginning to show her smiling face. The cry that "hard times were caused by Democratic rule," would make an angel weep, and an honest man turn his face to the wall in shame.

THE opening of the Democratic headquarters last Wednesday evening, was a brilliant success. The spacious room was crowded to suffocation. The music, the singing, and the speeches were happily received; and even our Republican friends, who were present, smiled with satisfaction, realizing that this is surely a "Democratic year." The arrangement of the hall, and execution of the program, showed the master hand of that leader of leaders, the Hon. O. W. Powers, who bid all welcome, and presided during the evening, and impressed all present, that the laurels of victory would rest upon the Democratic banner, when the "campaign is over."

OWING to courtesies extended by the Salt Lake Herald we are enabled to present our many readers with a portrait of the Hon. Moses Thatcher, one of the next U. S. senators from the new state of Utah.

First Unitarian Church, 44 Main street. Services at 11 o'clock Sunday, a. m. Rev. A. L. Hudson, Pastor. Subject: "The Sunken Road."

A TENNESSEAN HONORED.

Hon. Thomas Maloney, a native of Greene County, Tenn., who removed to Ogden, Utah, about eleven years ago, was nominated on the 5th inst., for judge of the Supreme Court of the new State, by the largest Democratic convention ever held in Utah. Mr. Maloney received 611 votes, although only 326 were required to nominate. Mr. Maloney was an influential member of Utah's Constitutional convention. The Republicans are claiming that they will carry the State of Utah, but Mr. Maloney's recognized ability and integrity, and his deserved popularity, gives promise that he will be elected. His friends in Tennessee wish him success, and are sure, that if elected, Tom Maloney, as he is still familiarly called by them, will render the new State able and efficient service.—Daily Banner, Nashville, Tenn., Sept. 11th, 1895.
